

To whom it may concern,

We had pretty much decided to send our son to the closest school to our home and hadn't considered any other options. At the last minute, we looked at a couple of other schools in the area. Although it was slightly further away from our home, we were very taken with St Brigid's. St Brigid's has a great feel to it. The children all know each other and the older ones really care and look out for the younger ones. As a Christian family who regularly attend church, we also feel that, despite the fact that we are not Catholic, the special character of the school compliments our family values. Our son has now attended the school for one year and we are very satisfied with how well he is being looked after.
